Welcome

Jesus Christ believed that ‘a person does not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes from the mouth of God.’ At Ridley we aim to give you a good feed from God’s word.

The serious study of the Bible is a great investment. The goal of such study is to grow in the grace and knowledge of Jesus, to have our minds renewed and our behaviour transformed. It is to be equipped for the good works that God has planned for each of us.

In preparing you for serving God in the future, Ridley is committed to providing effective training in a supportive Christian community. We are seeking to make our training as accessible as possible and to reach an increasingly diverse student body.

It is a great pleasure to welcome you to Ridley College. Ridley is an exciting place of change and growth, and it is our prayer that you would change and grow this year.

We look forward to your involvement with us.

Rev Dr Brian Rosner
Principal
The Ridley experience

Ridley College welcomes students from many different backgrounds and traditions. Our aim is to provide appropriate training and encouragement in Christian living and to help equip people for future service of God in the church and in the world.

We provide specialist training for people preparing for full-time ministry of the Word, for ordained ministry, lay leadership in local churches, professionals thinking through a Christian worldview on the issues raised by their careers, for workplace, school, prison and hospital chaplains, future bible and theological college teachers, and in-service training for clergy and lay ministers.

The Ridley experience combines a firm grasp of the content and meaning of the Scriptures, a comprehensive understanding of theology throughout church history, and practical on-the-ground training for our changing world.

Our College provides this training and experience through a number of modes. Our on campus students gather as a community where learn, pray, study, worship, hear God’s Word together, and care for each other. Online students experience learning differently, but still benefit from their online cohort, and are given opportunities to grow in their own local context.

Ridley is an evangelical college that promotes a Christ-centered, bible-based Christianity. Our denominational heritage in Anglicanism shapes our culture and worship, while welcoming people from a diverse range of denominational backgrounds and embracing the richness of various evangelical traditions.

The Ridley experience is about providing you with teaching and training from gifted theologians and ministry practitioners.

Ridley College (crics provider: 02650E) is an affiliated institution with the Australian College of Theology, which is a national consortium of Australasian Bible and Theological colleges. For more information about the ACT, visit their website at www.actheology.edu.au.

Graduate Certificate of Divinity

Objective
Candidates with a non-theological background will be equipped to prepare themselves for further graduate study and develop study skills appropriate to theology and divinity. This course is not designed to be sufficient training for people interested in full-time ordained ministry.

Overview
The Graduate Certificate of Divinity (GCertDiv) is an ideal graduate-level introduction to the biblical and theological foundations of the Christian faith which may serve as a framework for further study. Eligible students are able to apply for FEE-HELP and Centrelink allowances (AUSTUDY, ABSTUDY, Youth Allowance).

Entry requirements
Applicants must have a degree from an Australian university in a non-theological discipline or an equivalent qualification. Where applicable, students from a non-English speaking background require a 7.0 IELTS result with a 7.0 in reading and writing, and 6.5 in listening and speaking. There is no mature age entry provision as applicants are already graduates.

Study options
The Graduate Certificate of Divinity provides a six month program of full time study (i.e. one semester). It can also be taken on a part-time basis with a maximum of two years allowed for completion. The GCertDiv can form an early exit point from the Graduate Diploma of Divinity.

Structure and points
The Graduate Certificate of Divinity requires the completion of 16 credit points (equivalent of four units) at 500-600 level.

- 8cps in Bible and Languages (BB, LA, NT, OT) and/or Christian Thought (CH, TH, PE)
- 8cps of units from any 500-600 level from any unit field, specialising in the student’s area of interest, for example: children’s ministry, youth ministry, marketplace ministry, ethics, church history, evangelism and mission, Bible, theology or school chaplaincy.

Graduate Diploma of Divinity

Objective

Graduates will be equipped to serve in their churches and communities with a more informed approach to ministry. This course is not however designed to be sufficient training for people interested in full-time ordained ministry.

Overview

The Graduate Diploma of Divinity (GDipDiv) is designed to provide candidates with the biblical and theological foundations of the Christian faith which may serve as a framework for further study. Candidates are enabled to reflect on aspects of their Christian faith and practice according to their interests. At Ridley we have three pathways, depending on how you might choose to use your Graduate Diploma:

- Standard Pathway, for general learning or missions.
- Marketplace Ministry Pathway, for corporate chaplaincy or to better equip yourself for ministry in your workplace.
- School Chaplaincy Pathway.

Entry requirements

Applicants must have a degree from an Australian university in a non-theological discipline or an equivalent qualification. Where applicable, students from a non-English speaking background require a 7.0 IELTS result with a 7.0 in reading and writing, and 6.5 in listening and speaking. There is no mature age entry provision as applicants are already graduates. Eligible students are able to apply for FEE-HELP and Centrelink allowances (AUSTUDY, ABSTUDY, Youth Allowance).

Study options

The Graduate Diploma of Divinity provides a one-year program of study. It can also form the first year of the Master of Divinity (MDiv). The GDipDiv can also be taken on a part-time basis with a maximum of four years allowed for completion.

Structure and points

The Graduate Diploma of Divinity requires the equivalent of one year full-time study, 32 credit points, ie. 16cps per semester. Most units are worth 4cps and most are completed in a semester.

The Graduate Diploma of Divinity also constitutes the first year of the Master of Divinity. Should a student decide to proceed to the Master of Divinity, the rules for progression and choice of units would need to be fulfilled, and the Graduate Diploma surrendered upon completion of the Master of Divinity. If considering the possibility of articulating to the Master of Divinity, the student should enrol in CH505 Early Church History instead of TH505 Foundational Christian Beliefs.

School Chaplaincy Graduate Diploma of Divinity Pathway

Ridley College offers a one year Graduate Diploma in Divinity that trains school chaplains and better equips Christian teachers. Together with a teaching qualification, the Graduate Diploma will provide the formal qualifications required by ACCESS Ministries for its chaplains. Christian teachers will also benefit as they lead Christian studies, CRE, pastoral care and other school-based ministries.

The Graduate Diploma of Divinity focused on Marketplace Ministry is offered through Ridley’s Marketplace Institute, which is a centre of teaching, conversation, research and resources dedicated to bridging the Sunday/Monday divide. The Graduate Diploma is in keeping with the Marketplace Institute’s mission to: ENCOURAGE Christian workers, EMPOWER churches to better support the workers in their congregations, and ENGAGE with both the marketplace and academia to build bridges and prepare the ground for effective ministry in the Marketplace. Marketplace Ministry fulfills a unique role in the workplace. Together with an undergraduate degree, the Graduate Diploma will provide the qualifications necessary to potentially serve as a full or part-time chaplain, or provide training to equip graduates in ministering to others in the Marketplace.

- At least 8cps of the advanced Old/New Testament core units must be completed as original language exegesis units;

...Master of Ministry and Master of Divinity capstone or project

As part of the Master of Ministry and Master of Divinity course structure, all students must complete either a major project or a capstone experience.

The capstone experience is primarily about the integration of the key features of the student’s learning across the full curriculum of the MMin or MDiv. It may be approached in two ways:

- A 650 (4cps) integrative project;
- Adaptation of a currently available advanced unit as a capstone experience

Alternatively, students may opt to undertake a 690 (8cps) project instead of the capstone experience. Students considering going on to postgraduate level research may also wish to consider a 790 (16cps) project. If enrolled in the MMin, then this 16cp project needs to be undertaken in the area of Ministry and Practice.

Full details of the capstone experience can be found in the current ACT Graduate and Postgraduate Handbook.
Ridley Online

• an online learning community to deliver content, reading and interactive group learning
• Ridley’s trusted emphasis on God’s Son and God’s Word
• assessment that connects what you learn with your ministry context
• leading international biblical scholars
• professional educational design by experts ensuring a high quality and engaging learning experience

• courses available include one to three year undergraduate and graduate degrees; in part-time or full-time study mode
• three semesters per year – study all year round

Ridley has been facilitating online learning since 2007, with new video-based units rolling out from 2013. This ensures that our online program continues to mirror the quality of our classroom offerings. Students receive equivalent teaching, curriculum and assessment.

Ridley Online students need to allow 8–12 hours of study each week per unit. Ridley units are compatible with offerings from other Australian College of Theology institutions. Further information regarding cross-institutional studies is available from the Registrar’s office.

Enquiries and enrolments
Frequently asked questions regarding online studies are addressed on the Ridley website at www.ridley.edu.au/about-ridley/ridley-online/ Any additional queries can be addressed to the Registrar’s office. Enrolment follows the same timetable as applies to campus studies, with applications closing in mid-January (first semester), late May (second semester) and early October (third semester). The same entry requirements, fees, unit prerequisites, etc, apply for distance learning as they do for on-campus study.

For further information regarding enrolment procedures, please refer to page 36 of this handbook.
Ridley Logos Library

Ridley College has been working with Logos Bible Software for over a year to put together an exciting package that will provide students with many of their textbooks, as well as Bibles, commentaries, original language texts and tools, theological dictionaries, Bible encyclopaedias and many other key resources at an amazingly low price.

With thousands of dollars’ worth of resources, it provides a great platform for a well-resourced ministry. “Good commentaries, books and Bible software are vital tools in ministry” says Dr Tim Foster, Vice Principal at Ridley, “so, it makes sense to incorporate it into theological education, with teachers using it in exegesis, modelling its use and helping students develop skills in these programs.”

The Ridley Online team has integrated Logos into its learning platform providing instant access to myriad tools with just the click of a mouse. Diane Hockridge, Ridley’s Educational Designer says that “Logos also enables us to create engaging learning activities that promote research capacity and active learning.”

While the Bible software package has been developed with online students in mind, Ridley has found that there is significant interest among on-campus students.

Ridley has negotiated a special price that students can pay over four years. After four years students will have access to the package for life. You may buy out your licence at any earlier point during your enrolment.

Students will need to determine whether they wish to contribute to the special student price(s) available. Campus students are welcome to opt in; Ridley Online students are expected to participate in the program unless they have a good reason to opt out.

The provision of such a large and quality digital library, with its Bible and language tools, for just $174 a semester reduces textbook costs, improves learning, and resources students well for future ministry. ($174 is the 2016 price, including GST. The cost is indexed annually at 5%).

Cross-institutional studies

As Ridley College is an affiliated college of the Australian College of Theology (the Higher Education Provider) students from other ACT colleges are able to study a unit/s at Ridley and receive credit towards their current ACT course of study. Cross-institutional studies offer ACT-enrolled students timetabling flexibility, access to guest lecturers and specialist units offered by Ridley, and opportunities to widen ministry networks.

It is also possible for students from other universities to take a Ridley unit as a breadth of study elective within their current degree, usually chosen from Ridley’s foundational Old Testament and New Testament units. Eligible students are able to apply for FEE-HELP to fund these units.

Cross-institutional students require the approval of their home institution/faculty to undertake a Ridley unit, and external applicants are advised to seek written confirmation from their faculty that their Ridley unit/s will be accredited to their current degree.

A specific application process applies for cross-institutional enrolment, and applicants should obtain this form from the Registrar’s office or the Ridley website.
After completing the eight foundational units (the equivalent of one year full-time) students are invited to consider joining one of Ridley’s learning communities to develop specialist ministry skills in a cohort. Full time one year Diploma of Ministry, Theology or Graduate Diploma of Divinity students can undertake their course within the context of a learning community most suited to their area of ministry, interest or specialisation.

Belonging to a learning community enables students to:

- Learn with a group of like-minded peers;
- Share together over a weekly learning community lunch and Life and Ministry group;
- Follow a learning pathway designed to optimise learning, character development and ministry skills in the specialist area;
- Benefit from mentoring;
- Learn from guest speakers and special events in the area of interest.

Students who take up the opportunity to be a part of one of these learning communities are expected to commit to one full-time year of study. Details of Ridley’s learning communities can be found on the following pages.
Missional Leadership

Students who want to be a student worker, pastoral worker, youth pastor, children’s worker, school, university or hospital chaplain, or church planter or pastor (without being an ordained Anglican), will find the Missional Leadership learning community a helpful starting point. This stream has been designed to enhance leadership development with the goal of creating leaders for the church who are proactive, creative, relational, pastoral, and evangelistic. We recognise the great need in our city and beyond for vocational ministers of the Word, who will increasingly take up leadership responsibilities in complex missional contexts.

Goals

We want the graduates of Missional Leadership to be:

• excellent communicators of the Gospel in a variety of settings
• resourceful teachers of the Bible in any ministry opportunity
• entrepreneurial leaders who serve by gathering and empowering others for ministry
• perceptive thinkers who can make connections between the Bible and the world
• team players who can work respectfully within diverse ministry contexts
• prayerful people who are confident and self-aware in family life and pastoral relationships

Details

To train students in these areas, we run a weekly Wednesday program which begins with lunch, and continues with a seminar and discussion. We invite guest speakers to take us beyond the formal curriculum and to provide ministry networks. We read articles together on the gospel and culture, self-care or leadership skills, and offer opportunities to talk through personal progress in ministry preparation. Each year, we either go away together for a day to study the Scriptures, build our community, and pray for our lives, or enjoy a missions exposure roadtrip to an interstate destination.

Expectations

Students may apply to enter the Missional Leadership learning community when they have finished all foundational level units for BMin, BTh, MMin or MDiv. A commitment to at least one year of full-time study is expected of each student after completion of all foundational units. Specialised learning pathways provide a concentration of skills and knowledge for future service—assistance with unit selection in specialised areas of study can be provided according to a student’s particular ministry goals.

Anglican Institute

The Anglican Institute is a learning community for students exploring ordination and for those who have already been accepted for ordination. Application forms to join the Anglican Institute and participate in its training programs can be obtained from the Registrar’s Office or from the Dean of the Anglican Institute, Richard Trist. There are regular seminars each semester where students considering ordination can find out more about full-time ministry as parish ministers, school chaplains, youth ministers, church planters, and hospital or prison chaplains.

Interested in ordination?

Students considering ordination should speak to one of the faculty ordination advisers (Richard Trist and Anthea McCall) as early as possible in their studies. Various dioceses have quite significant lead times and processes, and our experience has been that the sooner students can settle on vocational goals, the greater the benefit from their course and co-curricular learning.

Ordination candidates

A number of dioceses in the Anglican Church of Australia and the Australian Defence Force entrust their ordination candidates to Ridley College for their training and ministry formation. This is a significant responsibility which Ridley takes very seriously. Dioceses receive annual reports from Ridley on each ordination candidate. In addition to required academic courses, candidates have the opportunity to participate in a wide range of co-curricular activities to assist in their formation both in terms of character and skills. Mondays have been set aside for the formation of ordination candidates with a short chapel service, lunch, life & ministry groups and units of particular relevance to them.

The Anglican Diocese of Melbourne requires its candidates to complete certain academic and formational requirements which are outlined in full in the Diocesan Handbook. These requirements are used as a standard for all ordination candidates and consist of four years of full-time study or equivalent, undertaken as a combined Bachelor of Theology and Bachelor of Ministry (BTh/BMin), or for graduate level students, a combined Master of Divinity and Graduate Diploma of Divinity (MDiv/GDDiv or MMin/GDDiv). Anglican Institute internal units studied on a Monday are accredited with a Ridley Certificate of Anglican Studies.

Ordination requirements include:

- Studies in Language, Bible, Church History, and Theology, as well as courses in Pastoral Care, Preaching, Christian Worship, Evangelism, Ethics, Management and Leadership, Anglican Identity, Children’s and Youth Ministry, Cross Cultural Ministry, and Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) or Integrated Chaplaincy Training (ICT).

- Participation in the Anglican Diocese of Melbourne’s Supervised Theological Field Education (STFE) program. STFE requirements are arranged in consultation with the Director of STFE (Rev Richard Trist) and students need to speak to him in October of the preceding year. The general pattern is that students will complete a minor placement in their first year of acceptance as a candidate, then two major placements in the ensuing two years, and a minor placement in their final year. Late entry students are required to complete at least two major placements away from their home church. Students may gain accreditation for STFE by enrolling in the Field Education subject.

- Involvement in the Monday Anglican Institute program including chapel, lunch and ministry development groups as well as the annual ordination candidates and families weekend (15-17 July 2016)
• Participation in and leadership of chapel teams together with preaching at Ridley.

• Compulsory completion of the Diocesan Professional Standards seminars organised by the Anglican Diocese of Melbourne.

• Candidates should meet with Richard or Anthea at the beginning of each year and at the end of each semester in order to integrate the various aspects of formation for ministry.

Anglican Institute Training Fee

An ordination candidates’ training fee applies in order to cover some of the costs incurred in the ordination candidates’ program. The Anglican Diocese of Melbourne (ADOM) pays this fee for its candidates. Other dioceses may pay this amount on behalf of their candidate, but candidates will need to negotiate this, and other fees, with their own diocese.

Associate Membership

Students engaged in a Year of Discernment may apply for Associate Membership of the Anglican Institute. Associate members enjoy all the benefits of the Anglican Institute but aren’t eligible to attend the ordination candidates and families weekend.

Global Mission

Where do you fit in God’s global purposes?

Do you want to learn to think deeply, biblically and freshly about global mission? Are you considering cross-cultural or overseas missionary service? Do you want to help mobilise your local church for world mission? Would you like to work with a mission organisation in Australia? Do you want to join a community of people who are passionate about God’s global purposes?

If you answered ‘yes’ to any of these questions, Ridley College’s Global Mission Learning Community is for you! The Global Mission Learning Community exists to form missionaries, missiologists and mission advocates.

A suite of specialist vocational units in cross-cultural and global mission is available to all Ridley students. In addition, students have the opportunity to belong to the Global Mission Learning Community and participate in its co-curricular program.

The core co-curricular activity takes place on Wednesdays during semester, when members of the Global Mission Learning Community have lunch together in the college dining room followed by a seminar. Guest speakers, focused reading, workshops, personal sharing and prayer take us beyond the formal curriculum as we explore God’s global mission and our place within it.

The Wednesday program and other co-curricular activities complement formal studies to enhance students’ learning experience and help them to graduate with:

- gospel confidence
- personal humility
- cross-cultural skills and sensitivity
- awareness of contemporary issues and opportunities in global mission
- a network of contact with missionaries, missiologists and mission organisations
- a passion for the praise of the glory of God’s grace among all peoples

Students may apply to join the Global Mission Learning Community when they have finished all foundational level units for the BMin, BTh, MMin or MDiv. One-year diploma students looking towards cross-cultural mission may apply at the beginning of their studies. A commitment to at least one year of full-time study at Ridley is encouraged.

Assistance with choosing electives is available.

* If you need to apply for your police check/working with children card as part of this application process, please don’t wait to receive them before submitting your application. These documents can take some time to procure, so please forward your application without them, noting that you have applied for them, and present them to our office once you receive them.

The application form can be submitted at any time prior to the relevant close of application date. Late applications may be considered, but will incur an additional non-refundable late application fee of $50 if received after the published closing dates. Prior to submitting a late application, please contact the Registrar’s office.

If sending a photocopy of qualifications, police check or Working with Children card, these copies must be certified; otherwise the originals must be sighted by the Registrar.

STEP TWO – references

Upon receipt of the completed application, a letter of acknowledgment will be sent to the applicant, and nominated referees will be contacted by the Registrar with reference forms for completion and return to the college.

Once the Registrar’s Office has received the completed references, the applicant will be contacted to arrange an interview with a member of faculty to discuss course and unit options. Phone interviews can be organised if necessary.

STEP FOUR - unit enrolment

There will be an opportunity to select your units of study in your faculty interview. Once all unit enrolments have been processed by the Registrar’s office closer to the commencement of classes, an ‘enrolment pack’ will be emailed to students in order to sign up (where appropriate) for chapel teams, life and ministry groups, community meals, the Ridley Logos Library and a launch camp. This enrolment pack will also include information about the library and logging on to the student online submission website and resource portal. A student/library card and the all-important Student Manual will be posted to students along with a tax invoice, enrolment summary and the Variation of Unit Enrolment Policy.

Provisional students must adhere to Ridley’s Expectations and Rules. STEP TWO - enrolment email

The week before classes commence all students will receive an “enrolment email” with the subject heading: RIDLEY COLLEGE | semester one administration.

This email covers the following important administration processes that all students need to complete:

This email will give you log in details for accessing Ridley Online. Virtually everything revolves directly around the Ridley Online website for both online and on campus students, including unit information, assessment submissions, extension requests, access to the all-important Ridley College Student Manual just to name a few.

STEP FIVE - ACT Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE)

During the second week of each semester every student will receive their official Confirmation of Enrolment form listing all the ACT units they have registered for in that semester. Fees

Student fees cover 60% of the cost of running Ridley College, therefore the college relies on other sources of income, graciously provided by generous donations from individuals, churches, trusts and the Ridley Foundation. This means that all students at Ridley are subsidised.

Student fees

Course fees are invoiced at the beginning of each semester (semester one—February, semester two—July, semester three—Nov) and are due and payable in full within 30 days of the invoice date. Ridley College offers various methods of account payment, which are detailed on the back of the invoice issued each semester.

For information regarding our refund policy please refer to the Ridley College Variation of Unit Enrolment Policy at www.ridley.edu.au/current-students/forms/ or available from the Registrar’s Office.

Fees for units which continue for the whole year are payable in semester two.

Ridley may use the services of its accredited mercantile agency for collection of any overdue fees; however, in particular cases, the Principal may exercise discretion for the fee collection to be handled internally.

Audit students
Students auditing a unit/s (participating in learning but not submitting assessment or receiving academic credit) pay 80% of the tuition fee. This mode of study is available for both on-campus and online students. Please note that FEE-HELP is not available to auditing students.

Anglican Institute Training Fee
Candidates for ordination for dioceses other than those in the Diocese of Melbourne will pay an annual ordination training fee of $1,500 ($750 per semester).

Variation of Unit Enrolment Fees
Students making alterations to their unit enrolments may be charged administration fees if these alterations occur after administrative deadlines throughout the semester - these fees are set annually by the ACT. For full details, please see the Variation of Unit Enrolment policy, which is distributed each semester with your tax invoice and enrolment summary and is available from our website.
FEE-HELP

Since 2005 Ridley students have been able to access financial help from the Commonwealth Government to help pay their tuition fees.

FEE-HELP provides students with a loan of up to $99,389 over their lifetime towards their tuition fees. The fees are paid by the Government to the Australian College of Theology (the Higher Education Provider). The student may pay back the debt at any time, but must do so when their taxable income reaches $54,126. The figures are indexed annually in line with the CPI - the figures quoted here are for 2015-16.

To be eligible for FEE-HELP a student must:

- be an Australian citizen (permanent residents, including New Zealand citizens are not eligible) or the holder of a permanent humanitarian visa or the holder of a permanent visa who is undertaking bridging study for overseas-trained professionals. If you fall into the last two categories you must also be resident in Australia for the duration of the unit
- have completed Ridley's application and registration procedures by the appropriate deadlines
- have lodged their separate FEE-HELP Application Form with the Registrar on or before the appropriate census date

There is a 25% loan fee each time a loan is taken out for undergraduate units of study, such as the diploma and undergraduate degrees. There is no loan fee on assistance for units of study in a post/graduate course, such as the Graduate Diplomas, Master of Ministry, Master of Divinity, the MA's and the research awards.

FEE-HELP may be taken even if a student has a HECS debt.

2016 FEE-HELP administration dates

- semester one: 4 March 2016
- semester two: 29 July 2016
- semester three: 25 November 2016

No FEE-HELP applications can be accepted after these dates.

The Leon Morris Library

The Leon Morris Library is an excellent facility that plays a vital role in the academic and community life of Ridley. Its quality reflects many years of sustained investment by the college and supporters in this vital resource.

It is staffed by two Librarians and several student assistants who provide reference and other assistance to library users. The library and its resources continue to be developed, with the primary aim of providing for the information needs of Ridley’s theological students and staff. It currently consists of over 56,000 books, 140 current print journal subscriptions and access to electronic books (ebooks) and several online databases. There are computers, internet access (including Wi-Fi), a seminar room, study spaces and photocopiers/printers/scanners available for use.

The strength of the library collection lies in the area of biblical studies, and there are also important holdings in theology, ethics, church history and practical ministry. Smaller sections include Australian church history and society, missions and patristics.

The library’s online catalogue can be searched at: http://library.ridley.edu.au/

Opening hours can be found at: http://www.ridley.edu.au/library/opening-hours/

Further details of library operations are set out in the library pages of the Student Manual.

Ridley Student Committee

Events are organised by the Ridley Student Committee to give opportunity for discussion, information and fellowship.

College Meals

Ridley provides a community lunch on Tuesdays and Thursdays of lecture weeks, and a community dinner for students enrolled in evening classes. Students are required to make a contribution to the cost each semester or to opt out of the meals (if they do not wish to take part in the community meals) by completing the community meals try booking form at the start of each semester. Unless students opt out of the meals the charge for meals is $60 per semester for one College meal per week, $120 per semester for two College meals per week, or $180 per semester for three College meals per week. Students who opt out of the community meals are more than welcome to eat their own food in the dining hall with the whole student body.

Life & Ministry Groups

Life & Ministry Groups are organised to provide pastoral support for students. First-year students who are undertaking three or more units are automatically allocated to a group led by a faculty member. Students with a 50% load or more are welcome to join a Life & Ministry group but will not be compulsorily allocated.

Chapel and Chapel Teams

Corporate worship services are held in the chapel on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings, as well as additional services on Mondays for ordination candidates and on Wednesday evenings led by Len Firth, for our evening students. It is expected that all students attending morning classes on campus go to Ridley Chapel. The services are planned and led by teams consisting of full-time students and ordination candidates. Where possible, part-time students are also encouraged to serve on chapel and music teams.

Computer Access

Several computers are located on the mezzanine level of the library for student use. Students can obtain computer access forms from the Library staff; Wi-Fi is also available for student use on campus.
Ridley expects their students to:

- Profess Christian faith.
- Follow a lifestyle that expresses Christian and biblical values and standards.
- Be active members of a Christian church.
- Adhere to the standards of the churches (and other agencies) in which they worship and with whom they may serve in the future (e.g., the 'Faithfulness in Service' document for those considering Anglican ordination).
- Be willing to be challenged in their Christian commitment, and to be trained for good ministry.
- Disclose any criminal record.
- Pay all fees and other costs on time.
- Not engage in behaviour that would cause offence to our Christian supporters.
- Attend at least 80% of classes, or online equivalent, in each unit, and meet assessment requirements.
- Maintain a satisfactory standard of diligence and academic progress.
- Respect intellectual property and avoid plagiarism.
- Respect the rights of others, including students, Ridley staff, faculty, equipment and property.
- Not engage in any kind of harassment, or interfere with other students on campus or in online learning spaces.
- Agree to pay for any damage caused to or loss of Ridley property or resources.
- Always ask permission before recording (audio or video) any college activities or events, including recording during classes.
- Use social media responsibly and with consideration for Ridley faculty and staff, other students and the college's reputation.
- Adhere to the Ridley communication guidelines for using online learning spaces provided by Ridley.

The following additional expectations apply to students studying on campus:

- Agree to take part in community life at Ridley.
- Agree not to bring alcohol or non-medicinal drugs onto the campus.
- Participate in chapel: it is expected that all students undertaking morning classes on campus attend Ridley chapel daily and take part in a chapel team or music team.
- Participate in life and ministry groups: students should normally recognise their local church as their primary centre of care & support. It is expected that students attending on campus with a 75% of full-time load or more join a life and ministry group. Students with a half-time load are eligible to participate in a group if there is a vacancy.

Ridley College reserves the right to vary these expectations in individual cases.

Student Workload Policy

Ridley College is a higher education provider preparing adults for gospel ministry. Students must ensure that their responsibilities outside College, including family, church and work commitments are managed such that they can devote sufficient time to their studies and the communal life of the College. Also underlying this principle is our aim to help train students in love for their classmates and staff, and concern for equity.

Students need to balance their ministry and/or employment alongside their study and the choice and number of units taken. Students must plan ahead and manage their College workload and other commitments (including ministry commitments) to ensure that they can attend classes and that assessments are submitted on time. Some assessment details are available in advance on the subjects page of the website. Unit outlines distributed in Week One of semester detail due dates.

We advise that on-campus students must allow one day for each unit that they undertake. This usually requires one hour of reading or work outside of class for each hour of class (most classes require an extra three hours of work). Assessments and exam preparation will require additional time. Online students are advised to allow 8-12 hours of study time weekly per unit of study.

Each semester includes ‘Reading Weeks’. These are not holidays, but non-lecture weeks that are provided to ease the burden of study and allow for assessment preparation, reading, and study.
